W. H. DURHAM FAILS

Wealthiest Man in Montgomery County Hopelessly Involved.

Randolph County Judge Holds Vaccination Not to Be Compulsory-Record of the Muncie Cases.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal.

CRAWFORDSVILLE, Ind., Nov. 10 .-William H. Durham, a prominent citizen of this city, has made an assignment. Mr. Durham has been president of the First National Bank here for years, and a month ago he resigned on account of financial troubles. Mr. Durham is the principal owner of the Muncie nail works, that falled last summer, and as Mr. Durham had indorsed paper amounting to thousands of dollars he was left to stand the loss. Then he was a large loser by the failure of J. P. Darnell and Frank P. Nelson, of Greencastle. Suits have been filed against Mr. Durham, and as more are to follow, it was considered the best thing for him to do to assign. The assignee is Mr. Gregg. Mr. Durham was supposed to be the wealthiest man in the county. The bank officials state that the bank will not be effected by the assignment.

VACCINATION NOT COMPULSORY.

Randolph County Court Overrules a Lower Court's Decision. Special to the Indianapolis Journal.

UNION CITY, Ind., Nov. 10.-Judge Monks has given his decision in the vaccination cases appealed from the decision of Mayor Diggs, of Winchester. The Judge decides that the county Board of Health cannot compel the vaccination of school children; that it has no power to make rules, and that its sole duty is to enforce the rules and regulations of the State Board of Health. The cases tried were that of James J. Eagy, township trustee; Ralph Coats, teacher of No. 8; J. W. Harris, teacher of No. 11; Gideon Adams and Curtis Mikesell, patrons. The cases were tried last Friday before Mayor Diggs, who fined each $1 and costs.

Another Smallpox Death. Special to the Indianapolis Journal.

MUNCIE, Ind., Nov. 10.-Henry Shafer, one of the persons confined with smallpox at the hospital, died last night. This is the twenty-first death. One other cannot recover. There are no new cases in any part of the city since the quarantine was raised. The following figures taken from the city health officer will be of interest to those who differ on questions of vaccination. Total number of cases of smallpox in Muncie 147, number of deaths twenty-one. Of these all had been vaccinated, but eighty-seven were known as unsuccessfully vaccinated. The cases vaccinated more than five years ago were twenty-nine; cases recently vaccinated, thirty-one; severe cases never successfully vaccinated, sixty-one; severe cases vaccinated more than five years ago, six; severe cases recently vaccinated, three. Out of twenty-one deaths seventeen were not successfully vaccinated, two were vaccinated more than five years and one patient had been recently vaccinated. The last death is not contained in the report.

"THE ANCILE" GONE UP.

Muncie's Swell Club, Rent by Dissensions, Decides to Dissolve. Special to the Indianapolis Journal.

MUNCIE, Ind., Nov. 10.-Muncie's swell social club organization, "The Ancile," last night decided to dissolve, and the elegant clubhouse will be converted into a residence and the grand furnishings disposed of. The club is two years old. The rule adopted to gain membership was like this: At each regular meeting names of prominent citizens would be proposed by members, without the consent or knowledge of the person most interested. At that time the objections would be made, and a special committee, after hearing the discussion, would report whether or not the man were de trop. These controversies in showing up the proposed members resulted in some very naughty things being said, which, of course, got out. The feeling that was the natural result of such arrangements is alleged to be the cause of the downfall Got the Horse, but Not the Thief. Special to the Indianapolis Journal.

COLUMBUS, Ind., Nov. 10-On the late train, last night, L. L. Clark, chief of police of Lafayette, and James Godman, a liverman of that place, arrived here and secured a rig and drove to Nashville, Brown county, to get a horse that was stolen by Frank Falkbery, who has served two years in the State's prison for larceny. They arrived at the seat of government of Brown county this morning and found the thief had been detained, and that the horse was also in safe keeping. They soon learned that eight men and boys had a hand in capturing the thief, and that they demanded $50 for their trouble. The sum was refused, and the officers at once refused to surrender the prisoner, but gave up the property, and the parties returned to this the soldiers' homes throughout the country and the necessity for additional provision for disabled veterans is indicated by a circular recently issued by General Franklin, president of the board of managers. He says that no more soldiers can be provided for at present. In this branch there are about 1,400 on the roll, most of whom are in the home. Applications are frequent. A few applicants are now at the county infirmary, and there are few poorhouses that do not shelter one or more of these unfortunates. The demand is on the increase and likely to continue.

House Afire Blown Up. Special to the Indianapolis Journal.

MARSHALL, Ill., Nov. 16 -The small town of Darwin, ten miles so theast of here on the Wabash river, is excited over the blowing up of a general store and residence there early this morning. The store was Dr. Pearce's and a family lived in part of the building. About 2 o'clock this morning the building was discovered to be on fire and immediately after the family had gotten out there was a terrific explosion, presumably of dynamite. It shook houses a mile away. There was no explosive of any kind kept in that part of the house. The loss is

Father Sorin Cut Off His Relatives.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. SOUTH BEND, Ind., Nov. 10 .- The will of the late Very Rev. Edward Sorin, founder of Notre Dame University, was admitted to probate to-day. The instrument is lengthy and the administrator has not been named. The will bequeaths $500 to St. Joseph's Orphans' Asylum at Lafayette, Ind. The remainder of the property is given to the University of Notre Dame, including $19,000 life insurance. All relatives are expressedly forbidden in any manner to attempt to secure any portion of the estate.

A WASHINGTON LETTER.

One Firm in Enffalo Spends More Rioney at the Buffalo Post-office than all the Hanks and Newspapers combined. A Washington (D. C.) letter says, that the post-office authorities at Washington report that one firm in Buffalo—the World's Dispensary Medical Association—spends annually one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000) for stamps alone, in carrying on their extensive proprietary business. This is more than all the banks and newspapers of Buffalo combined spend for postage.

Here's a firm which has grown, step by step, through many years to greatuess. The reason for this wonderful growth has been that they have faith in what they sell, so much faith that if they can't benefit or cure, they don't want your money.

For many years they have been selling Dr. Pierce's remedies—one, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, for regulating and invigorating the liver and purifying the blood; the other, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Frescription, the hope of weakly womanhood, and they've been sold for years, sold by the million bottles; sold under a positive guarantee of benefiting or curing, or your money will be refunded.

introduced himself as Jesus, and said he was out killing all the snakes in the country with "the jawbone of an ass." He was arrested and put in jail, but was finally released, as it was shown that he was a harmless crank.

Ran Into an Open Switch. FORT WAYNE, Ind., Nov. 10.-Train No. 5, the west-bound Pennsylvania limited, ran into an open switch in the yards here at 7:30 o'clock this morning, and grashed into some freight cars. Engineer

David Raidy, fireman Robert Griffin and Joseph Craig, road supervisor, were bruised, the two former severely, by jump-ing. Griffin is bleeding internally, and is thought to be dangerously injured. None of the passengers was injured.

Baby Fell Into Boiling Water.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. MUNCIE, Ind., Nov. 10 .- The two-yearold daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gus Hollman, of Congerville, fell into a tub of boiling water to-day and the flesh on her body was fairly cooked before she was rescued. The mother had temporarily left the house and was some distance away when she heard the child's screams. The injuries are so bad that she cannot recover.

Taylor, a glass-blower, died to-day from the effects of a knife wound received in a fight with James Duffy, another glass-blower, Oct. 23. A coroner's inquest was held today. Duffy is a tough character. He ran away the same night he cut Taylor and no one knows his whereabouts.

Epidemie of Diphtheria Over. Special to the Indianapolis Journal.

BEDFORD, Ind., Nov. 10.-Some time ago the schools were ordered closed here for an indefinite period to prevent an epidemic of diphtheria, which threatened. To-day the superintendent, E. K. Dye, announces that the schools will be reopened on Monday next. Since the fatal disease broke out here there have been ten cases and two fatalities.

John Hilligoss Denies He Was Killed. Special to the Indianapolis Journal.

SPENCER, Ind., Nov. 10.-A special dispatch to city papers from Brazil last week gave a story of the killing of John Hilligoss near Coal City. That gentleman was in Spencer to-day and paid his second installment of taxes. He says there was no foundation for the special as no one has been killed recently in that vicinity.

EXPLOSION AT SEA.

Details of the Loss of the Steamship Alexandria and Eleven Lives.

NEW YORK, Nov. 10 .- The steamer Seneca, which arrived this morning from Havana, brings Captain Hoffman and fiftysix survivors of the ill-fated steamer City of Alexandria. Five of the ship's crew were lost, and also six colorded stevedores. Captain Hoffman states that they sailed from Matanzas, Nov. 1, at 5:30 p. m., with a strong wind and rough sea. All went well until about 5:40 p. m., when Captain Hoffman was having his tea in the cabin. Suddenly an explosion took place. Captain Hoffman rushed on deck immediately and found the ship a mass of flames in the hold fore and aft. All hands were called to quarters. The fire hose was got ready and an attempt made to subdue the flames. It was soon apparent that the ship was doomed. The utmost discipline prevailed among the crew. The boats were ordered | horse car this afternoon and tried to intimto be lowered, also the life raft. Five idate the driver. It was necessary at last MARION, Ind., Nov. 10.-The condition of boats were lowered in charge of the purser and chief engineer. The purser's boat, while being embarked from the falls, got entangled in some gear and she swamped alongside the steamer. The purser and four others were lost. The remainder were picked up by the other boats. The force of the explosion was so terrific that the fore batch was blown clean into the water. Some of the colored stevedores were blown overboard with it. The steamer kept going ahead until 9 p. m., making some fifteen miles. when the firemen were compelled to abandon the fire room and the steamer was beached on Juricka shoal, thirteen miles from Havana. The vessel is a total loss. Captain Hoffman and six others took to the life boats and were all washed off by the heavy sea, but managed to get back again, excepting William Foster, an oiler, who was drowned. Following are the names of the crew who were lost: B. W. Bowen, purser; William Foster, oller; George Smith and Louis

Bloch, waiters; Thomas Linden, quartermaster. M. Cole, a cadet, was left behind at Havana sick. Captain Hoffman, on being questioned as to the cause of the explosion, did not care to give any opinion. pending his official report to the manager of the line. It was surmised it may have been caused by an explosion of rum, which was a part of the cargo to be landed at Havana.

PEIXOTO'S WAR FLEET

Work on the Brazilian Vessels Being Pushed Day and Night.

El Cid's Dynamite Gun Almost Ready for Trial-Admiral Mello Rebuffed by Gresham.

NEW YORK, Nov. 10 .- Work on Brazil's improvised fleet of war craft is being pushed night and day. The big dynamite gun was not put in place on El Cid to-day, but by noon to-morrow it will be ready for trial. The Britannia is being rapidly transformed into a fighting boat, and in a few days the "flyers" Feissen and Javelin will have been fitted with their torpedo tubes. Two highly polished rapid-firing guns are now mounted aft on El Cid. Provisions and stores of all descriptions are arriving daily. Forty barrels of "salt horse" were carried down to the wharf yesterday. A part of the Britannia's outfit will consist of several Sims-Edison fish torpedoes. Each torpedo contains an explosive charge of five hundred pounds of gun cotton. These torpedoes are controlled from the ship by means of a cable, which is paid out as the submerged torpedo darts away in the direction of the enemy's vessel. The firing is by electricity. Experiments with these torpedoes have proved highly satisfactory, but they have never been used in actual war-

The report that the British government whose interests are large in Brazil, would ask this government to exercise a mediatory influence in the Brazilian siutation caused considerable excitement at the Morgan iron works to-day, where the fleet is being equipped for war. George A. Burt, representative of Charles R. Flint, the agent of the Brazilian government, who is supervising the work on the vessels, was informed to-day of England's attitude. He said he had heard that such was the case, but he declined to discuss the affair.

Admiral Mello Rebuffed.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10 .- Secretary Gresham has received a dispatch from Minister Thompson at Rio de Janeiro stating that he had received a circular from Admiral Mello, the insurgent leader, asking that the United States recognize his right as a belligerent. Minister Thompson asked for instructions. After a conference between Secretary Gresham and the President the minister was irstructed to say to Admiral Mello that, in the opinion of this government, he had not been able to establish either a political or military organization which entitled him to the recognition he asked, and that it would not be granted. Secretary Gresham added that the position of the United States in the present controversy was that of an impartial observer.

It can be stated on the highest authority that there is no foundation wnatever for the published story that the English government through its embassador here, has urged the United States to exert its mediating influence between the conflicting elements in Brazil in order to bring to a speedy close the internal strife which is now in progress there.

NANSEN'S EXPEDITION.

The Arctic Explorer Found the Kara Sea Almost Free of Ice. LONDON, Nov. 10.-The Pall Mall Gazette says that Dr. Nansen's prospects of reaching the pole are greatly improved. It appears that some Norwegian seal hunters who have just returned from Hammerfest, in the extreme northern part of Norway, report that at the time they were there Nansen's expedition was entering the Kara sea. This was in August last and the seal hunters were then able to cruise freely in the northern parts around the Nova Zembla islands, north, east and west. The sealers add that over an area of twenty to thirty miles there was no ice whatever, and moreover, they could judge from the water that the sea was quite clear further north They add that there was every probability that the Fram had gone through the otherwise generally ice-choked Kara sea in few days after leaving Jugor strait. The seal hunters report also that in the memory of all these experienced Arctic hunters. numbering quite one hundred men, the sea was never so free of ice as it was last autumn and that no Polar expedition ever had such fine chances of success as the Nansen expedition has. Another seal hunter, on Sept. 30, was in latitude 77.15 north and from there sailed thirty miles direct east and encountered no ice during the trip. Another skipper sailed close to the northeast land of Spitzbergen where there was but little ice. Dr. Nansen himself, in a letter to a friend, dated Aug. 3, says: "To-morrow we start eastward. It really seems that the winds favor us, as we find wide open gates. It is blowing a capital south wind, which must push the ice far northward into the MARSEILLES, Nov. 10 .- The women employed in the match-making shops in this city are lending their support to the striking street-car employes. They attacked a to call the police to drive them away Three of the women were locked up. Other women engaged in the manufacture of matches marched to the prefecture later on and demanded the release of the three women under arrest. When their request was refused they formed in line and, in company with a throng of men and boys, proceeded to the Bourse Travail, but a squad of cavalry had been stationed at the entrance to the building, and no one was allowed within the doors. The crowd was finally dispersed without serious trouble.

KNIGHTS OF LABOR.

Matters to Be Considered by the General Assembly.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 10 .- The seventeenth annual session of the General Assembly of the Knights of Labor will convene in this city on Tuesday next. The session will last a week or ten days. The assembly will be made up on the basis of one delegate from every 3,000 members. Between ninety and ninety-five delegates will be present from all sections of the country and all trades will be represented. The assembly will be one of the most important in the history of the order. Among other questions in which special interest is taken will be that of the future locating of the order's headquarters, the proposition for bringing about closer relations with the federation of labor, the sweating question and strikes and aid for strikers. The assembly is to be a constitutional gathering, a number of changes in the constitution will be made, but conflicting clauses will be when Greenlander was sent to beat the world's stallion wagon record of 2:15, now held by Alierton. SHOT FOR CHEERING Negroes at Bardstown, Ky., Assaulted by the Excited Whites.

Race War and Lynching Threatened Because of an Outrage Committed by a Colored Man.

BARDSTOWN, Ky., Nov. 10.-This place

to-night, is in a state of intense excitement, and an occurrence of this afternoon may precipitate a race war that will result in much bloodshed. For the past week the people of this and surrounding counties have been aroused to a high pitch over the assault on Miss Edna Hall by Phil Evans, a negro. The trial has been in progress for two days, and not until this afternoon was any evidence introduced that was at all favorable to the accused. At the trial, this evening, the testimony of one of the witnesses tended to prove the innocence of the accused. The negroes have all been favorable to Evans. A crowd of them had congregated outside the courthouse, and when Evans was being conducted from the courthouse to the jail by the militia they cheered him. The streets were packed with white people. The cheering of the negroes so exasperated the whites that a fight was the result. The deputies made a charge upon the negroes and arrested three of them. Leroy Wickliffe, a negro, was badly wounded and will probably die. Paul Abel and another negro named Simms were arrested. These | day and unite their attendance with this men are desperate characters, and were badly beaten up. Several other negroes and one or two whites were also hurt, but their injuries are not of a serious nature. The deputies, reinforced by the militia, soon dispersed the mob. More trouble may result. The negroes are considerably wrought up over the occurrences and threaten vengeance. The whites largely outnumber the blacks, and an outbreak will result disastrously for the latter. The cheering of the negroes has largely intensified the feeling of the whites, and there are rumors concerning a mob to take the law into its own hands and make Evans pay the penalty for his crime. It is thought that wiser counsel will prevail, and serious trouble will be averted. The militia is still guarding the jail, and any attempt to secure the prisoner will certainly result in the loss of many lives.

Evans, when on the stand, to-day, testified that he was at home on the night of the crime. His mother's testimony was badly mixed, however, and Evans's testimony will go for naught. The court adjourned at a late hour this afternoon until to-morrow morning at 8 o'clock, and by noon the case will go to the jury, which means death for Evans by the law or at the hands of an angry mob.

WORLD'S FAIR BUILDINGS.

Effort to Save One by Removing 1 to the Lake Front.

CHICAGO, Nov. 10.-At a meeting of world's fair directors to-day a committee was appointed to confer with the City Council regarding the removal of the Manufactures and Liberal Arts Buildings from the world's fair grounds to a site on the lake front. Treasurer Zeberger made his report up to Nov. 9. It showed the receipts were $33,401,000.97, and total disbursements $31,031,585.49. The cash on hand is $2,153,-128.73, and in this amount is included $214,-871.50 of souvenir coins. The chief sources of revenue were as follows: Gate receipts, $10,576,208; from concessionaires, $3,365,603; from stocks, $5,512,972; from souvenir coins, $519,765, and miscellaneous, $1,704,239.

The Ferris wheel still turns lazily from morning to night, although it has few passengers. According to its contract with the exposition, Ferris is to have all its earnings until they amount to $300,000, and after that he was to divide his earnings equally with the exposition. According to information procured in Captain Blackman's office the earnings since the $300,000 mark was passed have been $300,000, 1. inging Ferris in debt to the exposition for percentages $150,000. Of this last sum $75,000 was paid, and the remaining $75,000 is deposited in the Union National Bank to await the result of a suit which Ferris will institute against the exposition. Ferris aims to retain the $75,000 deposit on two grounds. One is that the contract allowed him to retain the proceeds, not until $300,000 was taken in, but until the cost of the wheel, whatever it might be, was taken in, and he says the wheel cost $360,000 instead of $300,000. The other ground is that the contract permitted him to do business until Jan. 4 instead of Nov. 1, and that the exposition, by closing the Midway to visitors, has laid itself liable to a suit for it is necessary that the wheel should run all the time and be ready to carry visitors if they come.

NEW CHURCH OPENED

College-Avenue Baptists Gather in Their Own Edifice.

Recital That Tested the Value of the Big Pipe Organ-Interior Arrangement and Decoration.

The first opening of the new Collegeavenue Baptist Church occurred last evening under circumstances most auspicious and encouraging. The beautiful audience room was filled to its utmost capacity. The recital was a rare musical treat, and afforded an opportunity to the organist, Mr. Donley, of showing the capacity of the instrument which cost the church about four thousand dollars. Mr. F. M. Loomis basso, sang "Saved from the Storm" and Miss Anna K. McLaughlin rendered "The Quest" in such a charming manner that she was encored, and responded with an old melody, which brought a great deal of applause. Mr. Donley played the overture "Semiramis," Rossini; "Clock Movement," fourth symphony, Haydn; "Allegro Moderato," Wely; "Morning-Peer Gynt Suite," Greig; "Processional March," Whitney; "L'Invitation," Weber; "Nocturne in G," Chopin; variations, Flagler; "Mignon, Thomas, and "Le Cheval de Bronze," Auber. The organ was built by Hook & Hastings, and is a water motor, with two manuals. The great organ has 648 pipes, the swell 406 and the pedal eighty-one, making 1,135

The dedication services will be conducted to-morrow morning by Dr. J. A. Broadus, president of the Southern Baptist Seminary, of Louisville. The other Baptist churches of the city will suspend on that one. The music will be by the choir of this church, assisted by the First Baptist choir. The new edifice is a handsome stone and brick structure, fronting fifty feet on College avenue and 138 on Lincoln avenue, and cost in the neighborhood of $25,000, the greater portion of which is paid. Of this amount the First Baptist contributed between $2,000 and $3,000. The movement which resulted in the purchase of the lot on which the building stands began two years ago, while the present pastor, J. F. Williams, was leading the congregation. The architectural style is something on the order of the English cathedral, with a modest spire over the main entrance and six gables, two of which are over two windows on either side and one at either end. The lecture room is gained through the College-avenue entrance. The gallery is in this room, and contains three class rooms. Below the gallery are three more class rooms. The lecture room is furnished with chairs, and is lighted by one chandelier and bracket lights on the gallery front, with drop incandescents below. This room opens by a large arch into the main auditorium, which presents a beautiful front of softened straw and gilt color around the sides, and pink tints above. This spacious apartment has three stainedglass windows on either side, and one tall triple window on either side. It has a seating capacity of six hundred, and is furnished with deep Brussels carpet and mahogany pews. The ceiling is beautifully paneled. The organ and pulpit are in the east end. South of the pulpit is the pastor's study. On the north side of the Lincoin-avenue entrance are two dressingrooms for baptismal service. Passing from the hallway of this entrance into the northeast corner of the audience room one enters the open baptistry. The auditorium is lighted with three large electroliers. Electric connections have been made throughout the building for bracket lights on the side, and protruding incandescents in the transept. The general tone of the frescoing is straw and gilt, up to the panels, with pinkish tints above. The whole appearance is one of cheerfulness and light, with nothing somber. The arrangement is such that a general harmony pervades the entire interior. The concave recess in which the organ is placed approaches the parabola in cross section, the effect of this conformation being to throw forward the volume of sound so perfectly that the faintest note can be heard to the furthest part of the lecture room. The church will be decorated for the union services to-morrow. and will present a very beautiful sight.

NOVEMBER MAGAZINES.

McClure's Magazine for November adds to. its literary interviews a "real conversation" between Frank R. Stockton and Edith M. Thomas, the dialogue being recorded by Miss Thomas, It is somewhat stilted, as if the interviewer, in elaborating her notes, had lost the spontaneity of the spoken sentiments; but the matter is interesting in disclosing peculiarities of method and thought in each writer. Two very good short stories appear in this issue-one by Joseph Kirkland, the other by J. Quiller Couch. Subjects of the "human documents" of this number are Conan Doyle, F. Hopkinson Smith, Camille Flammarion and Lieutenant Peary. "Reminiscences of the Bronte Family," "The Hypnotic Experiments of Dr. Luys" and "The Personal Force of Cleveland" are subjects of papers Arthur Warren, a personal friend of thirty years' standing, has an interesting sketch of Patti and her life at Craig-y-Nos.

So far as the Arena is concerned, the Bacon-Shakspeare controversy has reached an end, twenty-five men and women of letters having expressed their opinion on the subject. Of these, twenty upheld the damages. But to recover these damages | Shakspearean side of the case, two believe in the claim of composite authorship; two are of the opinion that Shakspeare did not write the plays, but are not convinced that Bacon did; one vote only is in favor of Bacon. Henry Irving is the last of the twenty-five to offer his vote on the question, and he is, of course, with the majority. Other subjects discussed in the November number are: "Medical Slavery through Legislation," "The Slave Power and the Money Power," "Knowledge the Preserver of Purity," "Is Liquor Selling a Sin?" and a "Study of Thomas Paine." Mrs. Mary Jameson Judah contributes short story called "Three Gentlewomen and a Lady." It is a sympathetic sketch of a woman who is a genuine lady, and yet, at the same time, an acrobat and the wife of an acrobat, of which calling she is not in the least ashamed. The North American Review for Novem> ber opens with two articles on "The Struggle in the Senate," one by Senator Stewart and the other by Senator Lolge. William A. Pinkerton tells about "Highwaymen of the Railroads." The Mayor of New York has a third paper on the wealth of New York, in which he tries to show that the rate of taxation is lower there than in most cities, but he forgets to explain that it is due to the full valuation of the property. "European Women" is the general topic of two articles. "Ten Years of Civilservice Reform," by Commissioner Lyman, is a timely article. W. H. Mallock has a new topic on "The Productivity of the Individual." The somewhat celebrated Anthony Comstock tells the bad things he knows about "Pool Rooms and Pool Selling." Governor Flower, of New York, tells the readers of the North American how improve their roads, which seems more important to him than the improving of his politics, as illustrated in the appointment of Maynard. The North American must be read by all those who intend to keep abreast with the questions of the day. Published at No. 3 East Fourteenth street, New York, at $5 a year.

The Engineering Magazine opens with a paper by Erastus Wiman on "Canada and Our New Tariff"-the new tariff being the McKinley law, whose application has affected a great number of interests in Canada. Mr. Wiman argues that while it may seem to some that this law will tend to further the idea of political union with the United States in order to improve commercial conditions, he believes that the contrary effect will result, and that the Canadians will oppose such a movement through natural resentment. He holds that the annexation idea is more likely to grow out of the breaking down of the tariff barrier and the establishing of close commercial relations. Carroll D. Wright, United States Commissioner of Labor, sets forth "The Value and Use of Labor Statistics." Other topics treated of in this very practical periodical are: "The Widening Use of Compressed Air," "The Lake Superior Iron-ore Region," "The History of Strikes in America," "The United States Navy of 1893," "Bridging the Hudson at New York," "The Inventor of Gas-lighting," and "The Art of Successful Advertising." The editorial departments are very full and cover the field of scientific endeavor.

A story by "The Duchess," entitled "An Unsatisfactory Lover," forms the complete novel in the November Lippincott. Other contributors to the number are: John Gilmer Speed, H. H. Boyesen, J. Armory Knox, Richard E. Burton and Wilton Tournier. The last-named writer urges the especial need to brain workers of physical cultivation. He says: "There is no time in a man's life when he can afford to dispense with exercise; unless he faithfully and persistently develops his physical resources. vitality becomes impaired. Exercise does for the body what intellectual training does for the mind; yet most men who lead sedentary lives take little or no exercise,
